

A goal for the Puzzle Catalogue is to reach a diverse set of audiences and we believe that a short video abstract can help to draw in a variety of readers.

What should the video abstract cover?

Please cover these four questions in your video:

- 1) Why is this theological puzzle important?
- 2) What is your hypothesis?
- 3) What are your “fields of study”?
- 4) What are the main conclusions of your puzzle?

The video should ideally be 3-5 minutes long.

Here is an example of a video abstract: <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=vSna7jdfa-w>

How should I record it?

You can record it either on your phone or on your laptop/computer. We would recommend using Windows Movie Maker, but any video recording software will suffice. You are free to incorporate Powerpoint slides, for which we recommend Slideshare (<http://www.slideshare.net/about>).

How do I submit the video abstract?

You can send the video file directly to mikael.leidenhag@st-andrews.ac.uk. You can also upload your video on Google Drive, Dropbox, or any other file-sharing service and share the link.

Your video abstract will be posted online on our YouTube channel and will be made available publicly as a part of the online resource.
